

Dingley Dingoes Under 10 Red (East): Match Report – 25/4/10

Dingley 8.4.52 d St Kilda 2.3.15

It was with mixed emotions as we fronted to kick off the dew for the Anzac Day clash at home against the Saints. The hard-running, long-kicking James Burren had broken his collarbone at training and the sad news was that he'll be out for some time. The Dingo camaraderie shone through however and James was at the game to cheer on his mates. Great stuff James. On the other side of the coin, young Nick Matic was making his Under 10 debut; welcome aboard Nick and thanks for helping out the old bro'. The usual roving reporter was also a no-show this week, so details of the victory are sparse.

After an unselfish, team-oriented game in week 1, Grant was captain for the day. The Dingo machine settled into its work early and with goals from the ever-reliable Zano and "Specky Linthorne", were off to a great start. The rucks and on-ballers repeatedly drove the ball into the Dingo forward line and opportunities were endless. Adam Forbes sustained an injured finger but battled on valiantly in his roving forward line role. Up by 15 points at qtr time.

According to our Supercoach (who is apparently also a poet), the second quarter had the Rolls Royce in Lach Scott patrolling his wing, with the ball on a string. On the ball he would pounce, before taking a bounce, long before the bell would ring. Our goalkicking ruckman in Liam added another one to his tally and the gps was doing as he liked, slotting a couple for the quarter. 5.4 to nil at the main break.

The third quarter saw the Cockroach on the pine and with his leadership missing, so went the Dingo concentration. Supercoach added "as ugly a quarter of football as you will ever see". Having said that, the Saints played well and we struggled a bit down back. Great to see young Nick take up his spot at full forward. Apparently Supercoach wasn't happy at 3 qtr time and read the riot act. I would have liked to have seen that! 5.4 to 1.3

The last quarter saw a return to the Dingo running game and some good sharing of the ball. "Jumpin' Jack" bagged one and it was great to see the skipper Grant snag his first one for the club, roving another attempt from the gps 4 th qtr. Great to see James B singing the song with the boys afterwards
